

first news commentators to use the media with power and skill. Morrow made this provocative statement: "Somebody, we'll be able to talk to our audience and place in the world, almost any time we want. When that day comes, what will we say?"

By the time of Murrow's death in 1965, that prediction had already come true. But we still haven't decided what to say. Someone suggested giving serious consideration to the words of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.: "We must learn to live together as brothers or perish together as fools."

As Knights, we commit ourselves to live as brothers not only in our council, but also in our family and our world.
