

was present at the celebration of the Eucharist. Tears flooded his eyes as he watched members of the Ngoni, Senga, and Tumbka tribes worshipping side by side. Suddenly, his mind flashed back to his boyhood, when he used to watch Ngoni warriors, after a day's fighting, was Senga and Tumbuka blood from their spears and bodies. The contrast between what he had seen then and what he saw now was the difference between night and day.

That morning, the wise, old chief understood as never before, that meaning of Christianity. It is about God calling all people to join hands and hearts in and through Christ, and live together in UNITY.

As Knights, we have heard that call and dedicate ourselves to live and promote that UNITY in our councils, our families, and our nation.
